SKILLS

Networking: Building relationships with billionaires, world leaders, royalty, and academic elites; maintaining connections across multiple industries and social circles

Legal Strategy: Negotiating plea deals, avoiding prosecution, managing crisis communications, and leveraging legal loopholes

Operations Management: Private island administration, staff coordination, security protocols, and maintaining absolute discretion

Aviation: Private jet operations, international flight planning, customs navigation, and VIP transportation logistics

Finance: Options trading, asset management, tax optimization strategies, and creative financial structuring

Education: Mathematics instruction, curriculum development, and “alternative” educational program design

Technology: Surveillance systems, security infrastructure, and maintaining comprehensive documentation (allegedly)

EDUCATION

Attended • Cooper Union • New York, NY • 1969 – 1971 (Did not graduate—too busy pursuing other interests)

Attended • Courant Institute of Mathematical Sciences, NYU • New York, NY • 1971 – 1972 (Also did not graduate—apparently higher education wasn’t the priority)

High School Diploma • Lafayette High School • Brooklyn, NY • 1966

Note: Formal education clearly wasn’t necessary for building a network of powerful friends and accumulating significant wealth. Sometimes, ambition and questionable ethics are all you need!
